

Job Description

Job Title	NDT Technician Level II	Department	Wheel department
Reports to	Wheels Section Manager

Job purpose

The Non-destructive Test Technician will be responsible for all of the technical and physical activities within the Non-Destructive Testing Department to ensure the smooth running of NDT process to customer demand within the wheel shop. Builds good professional networks with LHT/LTLGS colleagues in order to be able to gain prompt support and promote effective troubleshooting. Accurate and vigilant to find and report non-conformance to the correct procedure.

Duties and responsibilities

All employees are required to use the LTLGS Integrated Quality Management System IQ Move.

- To participate in the process of writing and maintaining Technique (method) sheets for the testing of components, and to liaise with LTLGS' s level 111 Technician
- To understand and apply the company and industry statutory operational specifications for the evaluation of landing gear components, flap tracks, and carriages
- To test and verify the condition of a diverse range of components passing through the NDT area, and to perform these in a timely manner
- You will be required to maintain Practical Experience Record (PER) book
- Maintain a good level of NDT knowledge, prepare for assessments and examinations as required.
- To work and contribute to the team within the area, managing their individual certification to keep it current and valid Attending internal and external training courses, as required, to maintain and develop the relevance of their certification
- Performing such routine maintenance on equipment in the area as is required to operate legally
- Other duties as directed by the Head of Production or Section Manager
- All duties shall be undertaken in compliance with safety and environmental regulations and company procedures
- Interface with production departments
- Attend meetings as required
- To constantly monitor operating methods in order to facilitate both qualitative and qualitative improvements in the service provided to the customer
- Full and effective liaison is maintained with all departments which are affected directly or indirectly by the assigned area of responsibility
- To work within established company policies, procedures and agreements.
- An awareness of the major accident prevention plan (MAPP)
- An awareness and understanding of responsibilities outlined in the Company's environmental procedures.
- You may be required to train personnel within a specified area subject to your qualifications and experience

Working conditions

The job requires the person to be flexible in terms of working schedule – based on the needs of the business. Some duty travel may be considered necessary to cooperate with other stations within the LHT Group and to meet and discuss technical issues.

Physical requirements

The role may require the manual handling of Wheels, brakes and other bulky items. Manual handling training will be provided.

Job Description

Direct reports

The job has no direct reports

Person Specification

Education and qualifications

- Educated to at least GCSE level or equivalent
- Good IT user knowledge (e.g. SAP or similar business software, Microsoft Office Excel)
- Basic knowledge of EASA/CAA/FAA requirements and other applicable aviation regulation
- Knowledge of Health and Safety working practice
- Able to communicate fluently in English both written and verbal

Experience and knowledge

- Aerospace Apprenticeship served preferable
- NDT theory and practice
- Good planning abilities and a willingness to be flexible
- Capable of managing complex issues and ambiguity to tight deadlines
- Experience with working to EASA 145 requirements

Personal qualities

- Good communicator- ability to communicate with staff on business, and other issues that affect the business
- Good planning, organization and administration skills, PC literate
- Able to maintain performance under pressure
- Ability to make decisions
- Profound level of problem solving skills
- Able to communicate with all levels of Management
- Willingness to learn new skills to help the Company achieve its targets
- Able to communicate with all levels of Management
- Must be a strong team player willing to improve and learn methods and processes with the attitude to pass on knowledge and help with the improvement of the working environment within the NDT department